Leon Wilkeson is literally known the world over as Bass Guitarist for the legendary Rock N Roll Hall of Fame band.

For over thirty years his colorful personality complemented his musicianship, endearing him to millions.

Leon's obligations to the band kept him away from another passion he held, and that quite simply, was to create a restaurant where entertaining the guests was as important as feeding them.

To help complete Leon's vision his nephew, Mitch Simmons and wife Lorraine, along with the help of Leon's son Lee Wilkeson, and Leon's sister Marlene Wilkeson Lusk have brought to you this establishment.

As a lifelong resident of North Florida Leon and his band mates couldn't help but be influenced by the music of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and the Zydeco music of Louisiana. They sang of it often in their own music. Leon's appreciation for the down home music and cooking creates the perfect marriage, providing our guests with an unique dining experience.
